

Sunday, March 17, 2013, 2–5 p.m.
Middle and High School Girls Exploring Careers in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM)

HANDS-ON ACTIVITIES · DEMONSTRATIONS · DISPLAYS · CAREER REPRESENTATIVES

Talk to Professional Women in STEM Careers:

Aerospace · Computer Science · Electrical Engineering · Geology · Information Technology ·
Engineering · Space Mission Engineering and More

Kossiakoff Center
The Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory
11100 Johns Hopkins Road
Laurel, MD 20723

Directions are available at www.jhuapl.edu.

NO registration is necessary—Free admission.

Parents invited to accompany daughters. Appropriate for middle and high schoolers.

For more information, call 443-778-STEM (7836) or visit www.jhuapl.edu/stem.

presented by  APL STEM in partnership with
JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY Applied Physics Laboratory

the Women's Giving Circle of Howard County